

What is the main target market for your finished product?

What is your target manufacturing price per unit to achieve your goals and desired market placement at retail pricing?

What budget ($/kg) for inclusions are you targeting on this project?

Lower targets may exclude some premium ingredients or complex processes.

Are there any other ingredients or inclusions planned for this project? Examples would be ripples, nuts, or fruit pieces. Could your flavour be combined or deconstructed in a way to change these?

Are there any other price point considerations for the project?
